

Join Us As We Bring Back Brown Bag Lunch & Learn

The RSCs will be bringing back the Brown Bag Lunch & Learn talks. We intend to offer a once a month discussion. If you have a suggestion for a technique or topic you'd like to see covered please LET US KNOW. Watch the weekly update events list for the most up to date schedule of Brown Bags and other meetings. You can also check the Events page on our website.

First up in 2024: Kristy Schepker will give the first talk covering the basics of Quantitative XRD Techniques: Thursday February 1st at Noon. Join us in person, or virtually on Zoom.

Access Update:

We have been informed, if you are using the mobile GatorOne card for access to our facility, there is an important detail you should be aware of. If you get a new phone, reformat your existing phone or remove and re-add your mobile card to your wallet for any reason, it is likely we will need to reactivate your access. The system does not alert us when you make these changes, so if you have trouble with your NFC access after an update to change to your phone, please visit the RSC front desk and let us know.

Safety Side Note:

Be sure to wear the proper PPE for the job. When working with liquid nitrogen or other cryogenic fluids, cryo-gloves and full face shield should be worn, in addition to the standard closed toe shoes and long pants.
