RSC Lab Awareness:

After-Hours Access

- Can AHA users be in the RSC facilities after 8:00 p.m.?
  - NO!

- What if my project runs long?
  - You will receive a tsk*-ing e-mail.
  - Plan your research to end by 8:00 p.m.

- What happens if I continually stay past 5:00 p.m. as a regular user or 8:00 p.m. as an AHA user?
  - Strongly worded tsk-ing e-mail to both you and your advisor.
  - Possible revocation of access to RSC Facilities...

- Need some help completing your work on time?
  - Ask us! We’re friendly!

*tsk: an exclamation of contempt, disdain, impatience; for shame!
Definition from dictionary.com

Safety

- Are you wearing chemical gloves? Are you working with dangerous chemicals? Should you touch your phone?
  - NO!

- Can I stick my head in the fume hood?
  - Nope. No. Do not do that.

- Starting a project that will generate waste?
  - Find your waste bottles and solid waste disposal containers BEFORE you start.

TLDR: Leave by 5:00 p.m.!
Leave by 8:00 p.m. if you have AHA!
Too full! Find a new container.

If only there was some kind of sign saying “do not overfill”...
